The Technician Class is the first of three ham radio licenses. It is the entry to ham radio. The classes are geared towards the student with no electrical or electronic experience. The ham classes will provide, at a slower pace (8 consecutive Saturdays), the instruction necessary to obtain the Technician Class ham license.

This course follows the ARRL License manual and it is structured to provide an understanding of the subject matter. Topics are taught at a slower pace, and presented in simpler terms to increase student comprehension.

Latest enrollment date and money will be collected on the first day of class.
